Neighborhoods Served

Our focus is on four Atlanta neighborhoods facing some of the greatest needs: English Avenue, Vine City, Ashview Heights and the Atlanta University Center. Over the last few decades, this once prosperous area has experienced broad decline. These historic neighborhoods were once the center of the birthplace of leaders in the civil rights movement—if Sweet Auburn was once one of the most influential centers of Black wealth in the United States, the Westside was one of the most vital centers of Black thought.

"Across Atlanta, we all want the same for our city: safe communities, easy access to transit, opportunity for jobs and economic growth, and thriving schools.

"As your mayor, I will listen intently and work tirelessly to make Atlanta a city that meets and enhances communities at their point of need."

"As the 60th Mayor of Atlanta, I will seek a new understanding, one grounded in civility and productive dialogue, to build a greater Atlanta. We must draw on the power of our Olympic spirit and the shared purpose of the Civil Rights era and become an undivided Atlanta, locked arm-in-arm to build our children's future and achieve our City's destiny...when we are One Atlanta, I believe we are truly unstoppable."
