Westside Future Fund 1964 Society

Invest in the Work of Racial Equity & Economic Justice on Atlanta's Historic Westside

THE 1964 SOCIETY

Taking its name from the pivotal year that changed history with the passage of the Civil Rights Act, The Westside Future Fund 1964 Society embodies the same commitment to a sustained, collective effort to advance racial equity and economic justice.

The 1964 Society is home to engaged philanthropists who want to invest in the cornerstones of generational change by opening opportunities to homeownership and education. The Westside was once a thriving mixed-income community and home to notable leaders of the American Civil Rights movement. Today, more than half of Westside residents in this underserved historic neighborhood live below the poverty line, and 40% of all housing is vacant.

The 1964 Society wants present day to be a historic moment of change for the Westside.

The generous contributions of 1964 Society members empower legacy Westside residents through access to quality, affordable housing and cradle-to-career educational opportunities that can impact generations. Their advocacy efforts ensure an environment where every resident can thrive.

By joining the 1964 Society, you play a significant role in creating a community Dr. King would once again be proud to call home, where the Westside is a model of racial equity and economic justice and at the heart of a better Atlanta.

Join the 1964 Society: Membership is open to individuals, couples and family foundations contributing $10,000 or more in a calendar year. You can designate your gift for a specific program, or you can make it unrestricted for use in the area of greatest need.
